roles on local-government boards and commissions, as well as area nonprofits.

Mayor Tim Knapp states, "This program is a great way for residents and area employees to become more familiar with the City and to explore the many volunteer opportunities that exist to make a difference in Wilsonville."

The Academy program offers participants the opportunity to learn about the City's programs and operations, meet City staff and elected officials and get to know fellow community members. The monthly meetings are held on the third Thursday of each month, 6–9 pm, at City Hall.

Applications for the free program are now being accepted through the end of October and the program is limited to no more than 25 participants.

SMART Wins $1.45 Million Federal Grant for New Zero-Emissions Electric-Powered Buses

The City of Wilsonville's South Metro Area Regional Transit (SMART) agency has been awarded a competitive grant in the amount of $1.45 million by the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) for the purchase of new electric-powered buses. Funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation's "Low or No-Emission (Low-No) Bus Program Projects," SMART plans to purchase two 35-foot battery-electric buses and install charging infrastructure. The City is providing a local $400,000 match—15% match for vehicles and 10% for charging stations—for a total project amount of $1.85 million.

SMART was one of only 51 public-transit agencies nationwide—and the only transit agency in Oregon—to successfully compete on a national basis for the highly competitive grant award under the $55 million Low-No Program. SMART partnered with the Oregon Department of Transportation, the Center for Transportation and the Environment (CTE), and bus manufacturer Proterra on the successful grant application.

SMART was one of only 51 public-transit agencies nationwide—and the only transit agency in Oregon—to successfully compete.

In addition to eliminating the production of greenhouse gas emissions, Proterra reports significantly lower maintenance costs with electric buses compared to conventional diesel engines, producing $151,000 in operational savings per vehicle over a 12-year lifetime.

The grant award was announced on Sept. 15 by members of Oregon's Congressional delegation. As a city spanning two seats in the House of Representatives, Congresswoman Suzanne Bonamici and Congressman Kurt Schrader released a joint-statement that said, "SMART serves a crucial role providing public-transit services in the increasingly congested South Metro I-5 Corridor between the North Willamette Valley and the greater Portland metro region of Oregon's First and Fifth Congressional Districts."

City Wraps-Up Summer's Public-Outreach on Town Center Plan

Wilsonville's Planning staff has hosted and attended numerous community events this summer as part of robust public-engagement program for the redevelopment of the Town Center area. Beginning with a design workshop at Clackamas Community College's Wilsonville Campus in June, the Town Center Plan team then attended to solicit feedback at Wilsonville Rotary summer concerts, Kiwanis Kids Fun Run, Fun in the Park and the Wilsonville Brewfest, in addition to several other events.

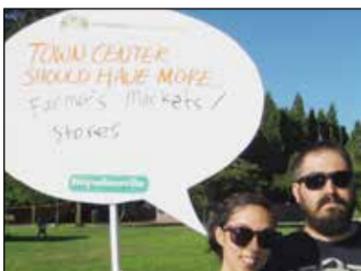

The summer events wrapped up in August, when the City hosted in Town Center Park a Community Block Party that nearly one thousand people attended. With a focus on the Town Center Plan, residents and business representatives provided their ideas on what the future of Town Center could look like.

The project's presence at the Block Party aimed at transforming the area around Town Center Park into a space that reflected many ideas the Wilsonville community has shared for the Plan. Outdoor dining, interactive fun-games, food carts and a 'festival street'—a street that closes periodically for events—were among the concepts tested at the Block Party. Before the end of the night, party goers provided feedback on which concepts they liked for Town Center, and voted for future designs, activities, and gathering spaces for the plan.

Throughout these summer events, the Planning Division has received valuable feedback through conversations, comment cards, on-line surveys and interactive activities, and would like to thank community members for not only attending these summer events, but also sharing their ideas for the future of Town Center. All of the feedback received this summer is being analyzed, compiled and discussed by the project's citizen task force when drafting alternatives for the Town Center Plan.

You can still suggest ideas for the plan by visiting the project website at www.WilsonvilleTownCenter.com, or by contacting Miranda Bateschell, Planning Manager, at 503-570-1581; Bateschell@ci.wilsonville.or.us.

Mayor's Message

City Seeks Community Members for Citizen Academy

Our community is most fortunate to have engaged citizens active in volunteering for nonprofits and City boards and commissions. Together, these residents and employees of area businesses strengthen the fabric of our community through their collective contributions of time, effort and dedication.

In order to prepare community members for leadership roles on the City's boards and commissions—where many decisions are made that directly impact our quality of life and the destiny of our city—City Manager Bryan Cosgrove started the Wilsonville Citizens Academy program in January 2015.

"For Wilsonville to continue to thrive, we need community members who are ready, able and interested in taking leadership roles on the City's various boards and commissions," explained Cosgrove. "For the past three years, the Wilsonville Citizens Academy program has accomplished the goal of educating residents about how local government works and providing avenues to develop community leadership," Cosgrove concluded.

The program is designed to be both exciting and informative, showing participants the many ways that municipal government provides on-going functions that are both essential services for daily life as well as civic amenities that that enrich our lives. For six months from January to June 2018, a maximum of 25 participants learn about the City's programs and operations, engage in skill-building training sessions and meet elected officials, board volunteers and staff. Details about and contact information for the Wilsonville Citizens Academy program is in the adjacent article.

I encourage interested adults of all backgrounds to consider making the time commitment and apply during the month of October. For more information, visit the City's website at www.ci.Wilsonville.or.us/Academy.

The Bonamici-Schrader announcement continued, "Electric vehicles are part of the solution as we work to address climate change and lower-polluting emissions. Congratulations to Wilsonville and SMART on leading the way toward a greener future and providing residents with clean public transportation options."

Oregon Senators Ron Wyden and Jeff Merkley also released a joint statement, saying, "This is an example of the kinds of federal investments in local communities that helps to improve mobility, livability and our environment. Investments in our public-transit infrastructure are smart, long-term strategies that enhance our state's economy by providing a transportation alternative for Oregonians' access to jobs, school, medical appointments and other crucial services."

Wilsonville Mayor Tim Knapp said that, "The City Council is pleased that our staff members work diligently to compete successfully for federal funds that positively extend the impact of local taxes. Utilizing clean-fuel or no-emission buses can improve the quality of life for Wilsonville residents and commuting workers while advancing more efficient transit services."

SMART Director Dwight Brashear said, "The Wilsonville City Council has made a firm commitment to transitioning the SMART bus fleet to a more sustainable, green future focused on alternative-fuel vehicles, including electric, CNG and diesel-electric hybrids. Together with Tri-Met, SMART serves as an integral component of the Portland metro regional 'Climate Smart Strategy' that calls for increased investments in transit improvements to reduce vehicle emissions of greenhouse gases."

Local backing for the City's grant application was strong, and featured 15 letters of support from business and government leaders, including representatives of Rockwell Collins, Precision Countertops,

Convergys, Oregon Tech (OIT), and elected officials Clackamas County Commissioner Chair Jim Bernard, Metro Council President Tom Hughes, Oregon State Senator Kim Thatcher, and Oregon Representa-

TVF&R Reminds Us that Working Smoke Alarms Save Lives, Every Home and Business Should Plan 2 Ways Out

October is Fire Prevention Month, and Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue wants to remind residents and property managers to check your smoke alarms. Being able to hear the smoke alarm when sleeping at night is crucial, and the best way to guarantee hearing the alarm is to make sure that every bedroom has a working smoke alarm.

The majority of people who die in a fire succumb to heat and smoke inhalation, not flames. Having working smoke alarms in your home greatly increases your chances of surviving a fire.

Fire is nothing like what you see on television or in the movies. Fire produces dark and deadly, petrochemical-fueled smoke that can fill your home in minutes, and can confuse you to the point that you never make it out. That is why every firefighter wears an air pack before entering a burning building and uses thermal imagers to search for victims.

Most fatal fires happen at night when people are sleeping. Working smoke alarms are designed to activate early to help ensure that you and your family have time to safely escape from your home.

The American Red Cross reports that home fires can happen at any time, but they generally increase during the fall and winter, with December and January being the peak months. Home fires are also more common on Saturday and Sunday, and tend to peak between 6 and 7 pm. Cooking is the lead cause of fires for both residential and nonresidential fires, with other main causes of home fires including heaters, electrical malfunction, careless and open-flame use, and smoking.

This year, the National Fire Protection Association campaign, "Every Second Counts-Plan Two Ways Out," focuses on the importance of having an escape plan. TVFR recommends drawing a map of your home with all members of your household and marking two exits from each room and a path to your designated safe meeting place outside from each exit. One of those exits could be a window.

Once you have an escape plan, have a home fire drill and practice using different ways out. We recommend closing doors behind you as you leave to help slow the spread of smoke, heat and fire. Importantly, teach children how to escape on their own in case you can't help them.

TVF&R offers the following advice to help protect your family:

- To ensure maximum protection, install smoke alarms in every sleeping room, outside each separate sleeping area, and on every level of the home, including the basement.
- Check your alarms monthly by pushing the test button and replace smoke alarms 10 years old or older.
- Hard-wired alarms — those wired directly into home electrical systems — should have a battery back-up should electrical power go out.
- Never disconnect or remove batteries from smoke alarms.
- An alarm's hush button allows you to temporarily silence the alarm.
- If your smoke alarm sounds, immediately exit your home, call 911, and stay outside.

Being able to hear the smoke alarm when sleeping at night is crucial.

Oregon law requires working smoke alarms in all rental dwellings. If you rent and do not have working smoke alarms, contact your landlord or property manager. If working smoke alarms are not installed after you have notified your landlord or property manager, call TVF&R at 503-649-8577.

Smoke alarms are also available for people who are deaf or hard of hearing. These alarms use strobe lights or vibration to alert residents.

For more fire prevention tips and tools to create a fire escape plan, visit www.tvfr.com.

How fast does fire move? Very fast. You could have less than 2 minutes to get out safely once the smoke alarm sounds.

7 steps to practicing your escape plan

- Draw a map of your home. Include all doors and windows.
- Find two ways out of every room.
- Make sure doors and windows are not blocked.
- Choose an outside meeting place in front of your home.
- Push the test button to sound the smoke alarm.
- Practice your drill with everyone in the home.
- Get outside to your meeting place.

OrePac Building Products Recognized for $10,000 Contribution to the Public Library Foundation

The Wilsonville Public Library Foundation recognizes OrePac Building Products for support of public computing and Internet access at the Wilsonville Public Library with a $10,000 contribution. The cash donation is part of a larger five-year commitment by the company to help the Library improve opportunities for public access to computers and Internet services at the Library.

Headquartered in Wilsonville, wholesale building-products distributor OrePac has supported the Library's public-computing access since 1997. OrePac has donated cash, computers and other equipment that has expanded and enhanced the Wilsonville-area community's access to computers and the Internet. Retired OrePac Chief Financial Officer Alan Kirk served for over 13 years on the City Council.

OrePac sponsored the 'OrePac Building Products Technology Center' when the Library expanded in 2002, making a dozen new computers available to the public. These public computers have been used up to 40,000 times per year, and have provided access for area residents to apply for jobs, take online classes, do research and keep in touch with friends and family.

Hilly Alexander, Past President of the Wilsonville Public Library Foundation, said that, "OrePac's support of the Wilsonville Public Library has been instrumental to improving public access to both computers and to the Internet. We invite more

With the growth of wireless Internet access, the Library is looking to strengthen the wireless infrastructure available to the public as part of a million-dollar Library renovation scheduled for this winter. OrePac's support helps to strengthen the Library's wireless infrastructure by improving wireless Internet access.

Drop, Cover and Hold On During the Great Oregon ShakeOut on Oct. 19

The time to get prepared is now! Join earthquake preparedness advocates again this year for another Great Oregon ShakeOut, on Thursday, October 19. This year at the minimum, participation in ShakeOut is a 1-minute Drop, Cover, and Hold On drill, but you can do so much more. More than 320,000 Oregonians have already registered for this year; learn more and register for the Great Oregon ShakeOut now at www.shakeout.org/oregon.

Federal, state and local emergency-management experts and other official preparedness organizations all agree that “Drop, Cover, and Hold On” is the appropriate action to reduce injury and death during earthquakes. Great ShakeOut Earthquake Drills (www.ShakeOut.org) are opportunities to practice how to protect ourselves during earthquakes.

You cannot tell from the initial shaking if an earthquake will suddenly become intense...so always Drop, Cover, and Hold On immediately!

In MOST situations, you will reduce your chance of injury if you:

DROP where you are, onto your hands and knees. This position protects you from being knocked down and also allows you to stay low and crawl to shelter if nearby.

COVER your head and neck with one arm and hand:

- If a sturdy table or desk is nearby, crawl underneath it for shelter.
- If no shelter is nearby, crawl next to an interior wall (away from windows).
- Stay on your knees; bend over to protect vital organs.

HOLD ON until the shaking stops:

- Under shelter: hold on to it with one hand; be ready to move with your shelter if it shifts.
- No shelter: hold on to your head and neck with both arms and hands.

If there is no table or desk near you, drop to the ground and then if possible move to an inside corner of the room. Be in a crawling position to protect your vital organs and be ready to move if necessary, and cover your head and neck with your hands and arms.

Do not move to another location or outside. Earthquakes occur without any warning and may be so violent that you cannot run or crawl. You are more likely to be injured if you try to move around during strong shaking. Also, you will never know if the initial jolt will turn out to be start of the big one...and that's why you should always Drop, Cover and Hold On immediately!

These are guidelines for most situations. Read below to learn how to protect yourself in other situations and locations, or visit www.earthquakecountry.org/step5.

Metro Updates Region's Solid-Waste Disposal Plan

The Regional Waste Plan is the blueprint that guides how the greater Portland area reduces waste and handles more than 2 million tons of garbage, food scraps, yard trimmings, recyclables and household hazardous waste every year.

The current plan, last update in 2008, is called the “Regional Solid Waste Management Plan.” This plan guides ongoing work through 2018 to reduce the amount and toxicity of waste generated in the region, as well as to lessen the health and environmental impacts of the region's garbage and recycling.

In 2018, Metro Council is schedule to adopt a new plan to be called the “2030 Regional Waste Plan.”

Metro is working with community members, business leaders and government partners to develop a shared vision and strategy to waste less and ensure equity across the system and its services.

The 2030 Regional Waste Plan includes:

- A vision for reducing the overall impacts of goods consumed in the region - not just the disposal of those goods but also the production of them
- Policies to help ensure equity in the system, including access to services
- Goals for achieving what residents want from the system by 2030
- A plan that identifies actions to accomplish those goals, and ways to measure progress.

Work on the 2030 Regional Waste Plan is in Phase 2.

Phase 1: Values, March–July

Phase 1 developed a set of overarching guidance including values and guiding principles to inform plan development and implementation. The concepts for the plan values are drawn from existing guidance, including regional, state and federal policies and plans regarding waste management, recycling, toxics and other related environmental programs. The values were further shaped through public surveys, community discussions and the application of an equity lens.

Metro Council endorsed the values and principles in August to inform and guide the development of the plan's vision, goals, strategies and actions.

Phase 2: Vision, August–December

Phase 2 identifies the plan's vision and goal areas. Metro plans to use numerous means to engage the public, including an online survey, Metro discussion groups with culturally specific community-based organizations, and a leadership forum series in early October. The leadership forum series includes three events co-hosted with community based organizations in Multnomah, Washington, and Clackamas counties. The leadership forums, to be held 5–8 pm, provide an opportunity for local elected officials, community members and business leaders to connect and discuss the vision for the plan on the following dates:

- Wednesday, Oct. 4, at Rose Villa Performing Arts Center, 13505 SE River Road, Milwaukie
- Thursday, Oct. 5, at Centro Cultural, 1110 N Adair St, Cornelius
- Thursday, Oct. 12, at Rosewood Initiative, 16126 SE Stark St, Portland

Staff is to compile input collected from the forum, workgroup deliberations, community discussions and the survey to develop a draft preferred vision and goals within the system. The draft vision and goals are to be presented to the Metro Policy Advisory and Solid Waste Alternatives Advisory Committees, and Metro Council for consideration in early December.

Metro Proposes Recycling of Food Scraps for Businesses, Seeks to Reduce Organics in Garbage

This fall, the Metro Council is considering a policy that would require food-service businesses to separate food scraps from garbage for separate collection. The policy would be phased-in over five years beginning 2019.

Food scraps are the largest single component of the waste the metro region sends to landfills. Almost 20 percent of garbage is food, enough to fill 5,000 long-haul trucks each year. Food scraps are the largest contributors to the creation of methane in a landfill, a potent greenhouse gas. Food scraps can be put to better use creating energy, fertilizer and compost to support local agriculture and nurseries.

Much of the volume of the region's discarded food comes from restaurants, grocery stores, cafeterias and other food-service businesses. Metro has been meeting with businesses, chambers of commerce and others to gain input on the proposed plan.

A 30-day written public comment period is open until Oct. 20. For more information or to submit written comments, see www.oregonmetro.gov/foodscrapspolicy; or contact Metro staff at 503-234-3000; foodscraps@oregonmetro.gov.

Our History:

1911 Wilsonville Methodist Episcopal Church, now McMenamins Wilsonville Old Church & Pub

Possibly Wilsonville's oldest standing building, the Methodist Episcopal Church built in 1911 is now 106 years old. During the development of the Old Town Square shopping center during 2010-11, Oregon's foremost business that restores and uses historical buildings for brewing, food service and concerts, McMenamins rehabilitated the structure as the Wilsonville Old Church & Pub. The building still stands in its original location in Old Town.

Reports from City Boards and Commissions

City Council Annexes Roadway Land for New School, Advances Planning for Boones Ferry Park

At the Aug. 24 Wilsonville City Council meeting, the Council conducted a second reading and adopted an ordinance that annexes into city limits a small portion of land acquired by the West Linn-Wilsonville School District to be used as a road right-of-way for the new Meridian Creek Middle School under construction southwest of the intersection of Wilsonville/Stafford Roads and Boeckman/Advance Roads. Once construction of the new SW 63rd Avenue road is completed, the school district plans to dedicate the road right-of-way to the City.

The City Council also approved an amendment of the contract for the City's Park and Recreation Master Plan with consultant firm GreenPlay, LLC. Parks and Recreation staff recommended expanding the scope of the contract to include developing a master plan for Boones Ferry Park that incorporates the adjacent five-acre, Willamette River frontage property formerly owned by the Duckworth family and acquired by the City in 2015. While increasing the overall contract cost by $44,000, staff estimated that consolidating efforts by utilizing the same firm to produce a Boones Ferry Park plan would save the City approximately $45,000 in direct costs and additional staff time.

Under Communications, members of Wilsonville Kiwanis Club presented on the results of the Kids Fun Run event and other programs funded in part with a City Parks and Recreation Community Tourism Grant Program award. Also, Esther Nelson, executive director of Safety Compass of Oregon, presented on efforts to help victims of prostitution and sex trafficking.

During work session prior to the meeting, the Council heard a report and discussed the proposed amendment of the contract for the City's Park and Recreation Master Plan with consultant firm GreenPlay, LLC. The Council also reviewed the Community Block Party event that occurred the week prior, and agreed that Mayor Knapp should sign "The Mayors' Compact," an initiative to combat hate, extremism and bigotry launched by the Anti-Defamation League and The United States Conference of Mayors.

Community members can watch a replay of all or a portion of City Council meetings on Comcast/Xfinity Ch. 30, Frontier Ch. 32 or on the City's video-on-demand service at www.ci.wilsonville.or.us/WilsonvilleTV.

Development Review Board Updates

On Aug. 28, DRB Panel B approved the following projects:

- The addition of a 23-passenger vehicle parking area and associated improvements at the Wilsonville Coca Cola bottling facility located near the intersection of Barber Street and Kinsman Road, across from SMART Central transit center.
- A 24-month Temporary Use Permit for the continued use of temporary mailbox kiosk and the addition one temporary food/beverage cart next to the Villebois Piazza.
- Construction of a 27,400-square-foot tilt-up slab warehouse for Marion's Carpet to include 1,000 square feet of accessory office space and 3,500 square feet of retail space on SW Boones Ferry Road.

At DRB Panel A meeting on Sept. 11, panelists approved the following projects:

- Villebois Regional Parks 7 and 8 by applicant homebuilder Polygon Northwest. This item was continued from the July 10 DRB Panel A meeting after receiving a review in June by the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, which unanimously forwarded a recommendation to approve the park designs to DRB with several specific design recommendations. During the DRB meeting, several residents testified that they were not aware of plans to improve the area into park land, while others indicated that the planned parks were a desirable amenity.

The Villebois Village Master Plan describes Regional Park 7 as a three-acre parcel that provides a connection to the Coffee Lake Natural Area. This park is to include benches, a shelter, lawn area, picnic tables, and enhanced habitat areas.

The 9.2-acre Regional Park 8 serves as a transition

City Council Approves Conversion to LED Street Lights and Improvements to I-5 Undercrossing Trail

During the Sept. 7 Wilsonville City Council meeting, the Council held a public hearing and adopted on first reading two ordinances pertaining to street lighting; a second reading was scheduled for Sept. 18. One ordinance changes City Code that requires the installation of long-lasting, energy-saving LED street lights rather than the older, traditional sodium vapor streetlights for new or replacement street lights. The ordinance also codifies that City-owned street lights are now maintained by the City, rather than by electrical provider PGE. The second ordinance adopted updates City Public Works Standards to require the installation of dark-sky friendly LED street lights for private and public development. The Council also adopted a related resolution that allows the City to bill customers for street-lighting charges for the new LED lights as older lights are phased out.

The Council approved a $254,000 construction contract for phase 1 of the I-5 Undercrossing Trail Improvement Project. The project regrades and improves the trail running under the I-5 Boone Bridge that connects Memorial Park via the Morey Landing/Kalyca Terrace neighborhoods on the eastside with Boones Ferry Park on the westside of Wilsonville. The project is to commence immediately and is scheduled to be completed this Fall.

Under Mayor's Business, the Council approved a two-year renewal of the City Manager's contract and a letter of support for a proposed South Lake Park Project by Willamette United Football Club to build synthetic-turf athletic fields and an indoor training area.

During Communications portion of the meeting, Valentina Muggia and Teal Bohrer of the Clackamas County Sheriff's Office presented on the Behavioral Health Unit that seeks to modify the behavior of law-breaking individuals in order to reduce illegal actions resulting in incarceration or other intervention by law enforcement.

During work session prior to the meeting, the Council discussed reports from staff on proposed changes to the solid-waste collection and disposal franchise agreement with Republic Services and on the proposed I-5 Undercrossing Trail Improvement Project.

creative play, a grass play field and lawn play areas will be available for active play. An interpretive area will be located within this park with numerous overlooks (several of which have shelters), benches, tables and drinking fountains providing opportunities for seating and informal gatherings. Public restrooms will be provided in a standalone building along Coffee Lake Drive just south of Denmark Street. An additional single-stall restroom will be incorporated into a parks maintenance building at the northern end of the park near the intersection of Coffee Lake Drive and Villebois Drive north. The design of this park will incorporate two wetlands with boardwalks as well as a series of stormwater/ rainwater features.

- Demolition of the existing 64-room Quality Inn hotel, 30800 SW Parkway Ave., and construction of a new four-story, 118-room Hilton Garden Inn hotel with parking and landscaping improvements.

Clackamas Community College's Wilsonville Campus Hosts Art Exhibit this Fall

The public is invited to view the art work of Becky Land & JF Warren this fall at the Wilsonville Campus of Clackamas Community College.

The art exhibit is open through Dec. 8; gallery hours are Monday–Friday, 7 am–5 pm, and varied Saturdays. The Wilsonville Campus is located at 29353 SW Town Center Loop East, Wilsonville. F

Becky Land

As a native Oregonian, Becky Land has a deep appreciation for the natural beauty of the Pacific Northwest. For an artist like herself, there are endless subjects to paint, and she finds inspiration everywhere she goes Becky's work is representational and focuses primarily on still life and landscape subjects. She uses traditional painting methods, and her style currently leans more towards realism than impressionism. Becky finds that her ongoing challenge as an artist is to capture the essence of a subject without being too literal. Mastering impressionism is her ultimate goal as an artist.

"Pond" by Becky Land

Becky's decision to focus on art as a career was made in 2014 when she participated in her first art show, the Lake Oswego Festival of the Arts. Having sold her first painting at that show encouraged her to jump in with both feet. Each year, Becky pushes herself to spend more time painting and getting her art out there for others to see.

JF "Juliet" Warren

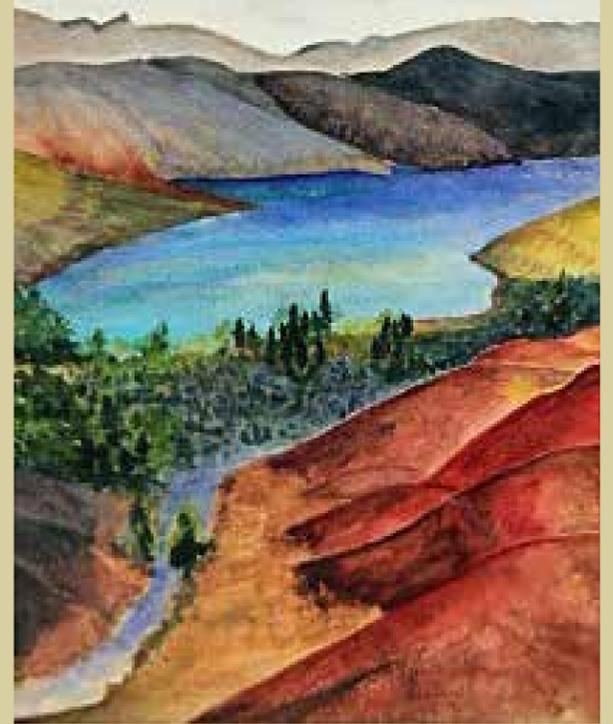

JF "Juliet" Warren began to take an interest in learning to make art when she discovered Betty White's revolutionary book, Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain. She read it, worked on the exercises, and thought to herself, "This is something I might be able to learn; I'd sure like to try it someday".

Using mainly pastels, inks and watercolors, Juliet paints intriguing things she observes, attempting to capture their essence for future reminiscence. But how does she paint a rising spring breeze, the sweetness of my friend's puppy sacked out on the laundry, or the shock and awe of tens of thousands of migrating snow geese spiraling into the sun at the foot of the Cascades? That's her quest—finding ways to effectively employ colors and shapes and compositions, that most appeal to her in order to capture and share these beautiful moods and things the way she experienced them.

For details, contact Joyce Gabriel, Facility & Events Coordinator, at 503-594-0950; joyceg@clackamas.edu.

Equifax Data Breach: Protect Your Identify and Credit

One of the three major credit-reporting companies, Equifax, revealed in September that the personal data of 143 million U.S. consumers—nearly half the country—has been compromised. This huge hack of personal data occurred over the period May through July 2017, and was publicly reported by Equifax on Sept. 7.

During the 11-week-long period of the breach, criminal hackers accessed people's names, Social Security numbers, birth dates, addresses and, in some instances, driver's license numbers. They also stole credit card numbers and credit card-dispute documents with personal identifying information.

"This is a monster data breach!" said Oregon Attorney General Ellen Rosenblum. "All of the personal information accessed by the hackers can be used fraudulently to validate the claimed identity of someone trying to open a bank or credit account. I urge Oregonians to assume your personal information has been hacked and take extra precautions to help ensure its safety."

The Oregon Dept. of Justice suggests taking the following actions to safeguard personal information and credit rating:

1. Do NOT visit Equifax's website to find out if your information was exposed or to enroll in Equifax's credit monitoring service. The website's terms of service potentially restricts citizens' legal rights. Buried in the terms of service is language that bars those who enroll in the Equifax checker program from participating in any class-action lawsuits that may arise from the incident. And because the hackers gained access to the information through Equifax's U.S. website, the Oregon Dept. of Justice is unclear whether the information you enter to determine if your information has been compromised (your last name and the last six digits of your Social Security number) will be protected from future breaches.

2. Check your credit report for inaccuracies. You can request your credit report for free from each of three reporting bureaus every year by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or by calling 1-877-322-8228.

3. Place a credit freeze and/or a fraud alert. A credit freeze will halt any application for a new line of credit and remain in effect until you request that it be lifted. Keep in mind that a credit freeze won't prevent a thief from making charges to your existing accounts.

A fraud alert is a statement in your credit file that notifies anyone requesting a copy of your credit report that you may be a victim of ID theft. There are three different types of fraud alerts: an initial alert, an extended alert and an active duty alert.

For more information on how to place a freeze, visit www.doj.state.or.us, select Consumer Protection and then ID Theft and Data Breaches.

4. File your taxes as early as possible.

As soon as you have the tax information you need, file your taxes before a scammer does. Tax identity theft happens when someone uses your Social Security number to get a tax refund or a job. Respond right away to letters from the IRS.

5. Visit www.identitytheft.gov to learn more about protecting yourself after a data breach.

Under Oregon law, businesses with Oregon customers are required to inform customers and the Attorney General's Office about security breaches that have placed personal information in jeopardy. For more information on the law and to view a copy of the Equifax breach notice, please visit justice.oregon.gov/consumer/databreach/.

The Dept. of Justice recommends to not rely on Equifax to help consumers deal with this data breach and suggests taking these suggested actions to protect your information going forward. Check your credit report every four months or so.

Keep America Beautiful... and Wilsonville Too!

Litter is more than just a blight on our landscape. Litter is costly to clean up, degrades our collective quality of life, hurts the image of our community, and eventually ends up in our waterways and oceans, harming birds and aquatic life.

Did you know that:

- About 85% of littering is the result of individual attitudes. Changing individual behavior is key to preventing litter.
  - The community environment also influences littering behavior. A strong contributor to littering is the prevalence of existing litter. About 15% of littering is affected by the environment, or existing litter.
  - Individuals under 30 are more likely to litter than those who are older. Age, and not gender, is a significant predictor of littering behavior; so parents and guardians are encouraged to model ideal behavior and to speak with children whom they observe littering.
- For more information, see the Keep America Beautiful website, www.kab.org.

City Hosts Oct. 5 Open House About Coffee Creek Industrial Area

The City is hosting a public open house about the Coffee Creek Industrial Area on Thursday, Oct. 5, 6–7:30 pm, at Republic Services, 10295 SW Ridder Road, Wilsonville. City staff will present information about the Coffee Creek Industrial Area, including the future vision for the area, proposed zoning changes to guide the vision, planned roadway improvements, and the Willamette Water Supply pipeline project. Staff from City Planning and Economic Development divisions will seek to answer questions about what these projects mean for area property owners and residents. Located in northwest quadrant of Wilsonville near the Coffee Creek Correctional Facility, the 225-acre Coffee Creek Industrial Area was brought into the greater Portland metro urban growth boundary in 2002 designated as a “Regionally Significant Industrial Area” exclusively for high-wage employment. Wilsonville voters approved in Nov. 2015 establishing an urban renewal district, which was formed in 2016, to fund infrastructure that would be paid for by taxes on new development in the employment zone. For information contact Jordan Vance, Economic Development Manager, at 503-570-1539; vance@ci.wilsonville.or.us.

Oct. 26 Public Workshop for Boones Ferry Park Master Plan

Wilsonville Parks and Recreation Department is holding a second public workshop to help plan the future of Boones Ferry Park on Thursday, Oct. 26, 6 pm, at City Hall, 29799 SW Town Center Loop E. The City seeks community input regarding preferences for enhancing park and open-space amenities and increasing public access to the Willamette River through development of a new park master plan. The Boones Ferry Park master plan kicked-off on Sept. 5 when more than 40 community members gathered in Boones Ferry Park and shared their ideas for the future of the park. Design Concepts, a landscape architecture and planning firm sub-contracting for consultant GreenPlay, plans to review findings from the first workshop and present proposed plans. Participants then break-out into groups and discuss the plans, offering valuable feedback. The seven-acre Boones Ferry Park is located adjacent to almost five acres of forested waterfront property to the east acquired by the City in 2015, and to three undeveloped acres to the west between the railroad tracks and Boones Ferry Road. To help develop the plan the City hired GreenPlay, LLC, a national firm based in Colorado experienced in developing parks and recreation master plans. For information, contact Mike McCarty, Parks and Recreation Director, at 503-570-1579; mccarty@ci.wilsonville.or.us.
