

The Japanese maple (Acer palmatum) at Frog Pond Church was donated in 1973 by Harold Miller a legendary Oregon nurseryman, in tribute to Bob Wiedemann (1913-1972), who devoted his life to helping things grow: plants, people and his city-Wilsonville. Mr. Wiedemann was also a nurseryman, who in the 60's was the largest carnation grower in the northwest. Mr. Wiedemann had many public endeavors, a few of those included:

- Serving as a Planning Commissioner
- Assisted the City with incorporation as a municipality
- Encouraged Tektronix to locate in Wilsonville
- Helped plan Charbonneau
- Active in the NW Florists Association
